RESERVE BANK OF INDIA

Economic Department

Bombay-1, the 7th January 1966

Ref. No. ED.DPPR.1209/MRC.95-66—The Reserve Bank of India having considered it necessary in the public interest to give the directions set out below, hereby, in exercise of the powers conferred by Sections 45J and 45K of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934, gives to every company other than—

- a banking company or any company, carrying on any class of insurance business in India, or
- a company which receives deposits only from its members, or
- a company, not being a company referred to in clause (a) or clause (b) which—
 - carries on as its business or part of its business the financing whether by way of making loans or advances or otherwise, of trade, industry, commerce or agriculture, or
 - carries on as its business or part of its business the acquisition of shares, stock, bonds, debentures or debenture stock or securities issued by a Government or local authority or other marketable securities of a like nature, or
 - carries on as its principal business hire-purchase transactions or the financing of such transactions, the directions hereinafter specified.

(1) Prohibition of the acceptance of short term deposits:
No company shall—

- receive any deposit repayable on demand, or on notice, or repayable after a period of less than twelve months from the date of receipt of such deposit, or
- renew any deposit received by it, whether before or after the date of these directions, unless such deposit, on renewal, is repayable not earlier than twelve months from the date of such renewal.

(2) Provision in respect of existing deposits :

Every company which, on the date of these directions, holds any deposit repayable on demand, or on notice, or after a period of less than twelve months from the date of receipt of such deposit, shall—

- within a period of six months from the date of the issue of these directions in the case of a deposit repayable on demand or on notice, and
- when the deposit becomes due for repayment, in the case of any other deposit secure, by taking such steps as may be necessary, that the deposit is made repayable not earlier than—
 - the expiry of twelve months from the date of the deposit, if the deposit is covered by the provisions of sub-clause (i) or
 - the expiry of twelve months from the date of renewal of the deposit, if the deposit is covered by the provisions of sub-clause (ii).

Provided that nothing in this clause shall be applicable to or in relation to any deposit in respect of which the company is unable to trace the depositor so however that no interest shall be payable—

- (a) in respect of any deposit, as aforesaid, which is repayable on demand or on notice after the expiry of six months from the date of issue of these directions, and
- (b) in respect of any deposit, as aforesaid, which has matured for payment but has not been claimed or received by the depositor after the date on which it has matured for payment.

Provided further that the Reserve Bank of India may, on application in this behalf, extend the period specified in sub-clause (i) or sub-clause (ii) in respect of any individual company or a group of companies.

(3) Particulars to be specified in advertisements soliciting deposits :
